Subj is USC returning from Cairo Egypt and Amman Jordan. Subj was in Cairo Egypt from 2/16 - 2/21. Subject claims no family or friends in Egypt and claims just wanted to "visit Cairo." Subject claims he stayed at an apartment in "New Egypt City" and booked it once he got to airport by asking the taxi driver for recommendations on places to stay. Subject was asked if he had anything booked or planned other than just showing up to these countries, to which he stated "no, I just winged everything." Subject claims he paid approx. $142 USD for 3 nights in "New Egypt City." Subject traveled by himself on entire trip and stated he saw Nile River and just visited the city of Cairo. Subject then took bus to southern peninsula and then took ship over to Jordan. Subject claims boat ride was approx. 3-4 hours long. Subject then spent approx. 3 days in Jordan. Subject claims he has family in Jordan but did not visit them or even tell them he was going to be in the country. Subject went to Irbid and Amman Jordan only. Subject stated he went approx. 2 kilometers from Israeli border. When asked why he went to border, subject stated he "Wanted to see the land that was taken from Jordan." When asked what he meant he said "everyone knows story of Israel and how they obtained their land." Subject claims all his travel was done alone and he was transported around by taxi drivers. Subject claims he chose to go Jordan and Cairo because it looks "nice" and would not elaborate. Subject claims he booked trip through Jordanian Airlines and paid cash for everything. Subject was asked if he visited any mosques while he was Egypt or Jordan and he said "No Muslims are only supposed to visit 3 mosques - one in Mecca, one in Medina, and last one in Jerusalem." Subject claimed no other mosque is a true "Mosque of Islam." Subject was asked why he didn't go with a friend and he said none of his friends would want to go to an Arab country because they are "white" and he is "Arab." Subject was asked if he has any "Arab" friends that he could have asked to go, and he said he only talks to two people really outside of work and they aren't "religious enough for him." Subject said he likes to be "alone a lot." Subject also stated he is not currently in school, but wants to study mechanical engineering. Subject claims he likes to "build things" with his hands. When asked to elaborate, he just shrugged and said I don't know its an "interesting field to me." Subject stated his father is taxi driver and he wanted to be "more than that" when he grows up. Subject has 4 brothers and 3 sisters. Subject stated his older brother has cellphone shop and indoor flea market. Subject claims he told his family he was going but didn't tell them when he was coming back. Subject said it was only after $3000 USD was taken that he had to ask for help from his Brother to purchase a return ticket for him. Subject claims he was at a Mcdonalds in Jordan and went in to use bathroom and left backpack in taxi with $3000 USD and taxi driver took off instead of waiting for him. Subject claims he reported incident to American Embassy, but they "of course did nothing." Subject was then asked about his military style backpack, and stated he was at one time interested in joining the Marine corp. Subject was asked if he ever applied and he said no he lost interest because he "became religious" and had "different political views." Subject claims his parents are religious (MUSLIM) but he never really was growing up, until one day he was searching for the "purpose of life" and started getting into Islam.

Subject wanted to know why he was here on Earth and what his purpose was and came to conclusion it was to serve to Allah by any means possible. Subject stated that he also works with an Iraqi War veteran and that he talks to him about his time in Iraq and they often argue with him a lot about why U.S. troops were there and how their presence has caused civilians to die. Subject directly reference U.S. airstrikes on Iraqi villages and the use of drones to "slaughter muslims." Subject states that U.S. is doing more harm in Iraq than good, and need to leave the Middle East. When subject was asked if he thought the fighting in the middle east would stop once U.S. left, subject stated that it would be sorted out by "Allah's wishes." Subject stated that he previously thought about joining Peshmergan Military forces in Northern Iraq (Kurdistan), but didn't know what he would be get himself into so decided against it. Subject stated that they were the "real forces in Iraq to stop ISIS, not U.S." Subject stated you need Muslims to stop Muslims. Subject was asked about his views on ISIS and he stated that he thought they were "bad for killing other Muslims, but that most Muslims they killed were "Shiites." Subject stated he is "Sunni" so "Shiites were their natural adversaries." When asked why he felt like that, subject stated because he felt "they didn't follow true Islam." Subject went on to state that Iraq is a mess right now and the Iraqi Government is a joke. Subject said they are so corrupt and the people of Iraq are no more free now than they were before ISIS invaded Iraq. Subject stated he is from Basra Iraq and that he wishes to go visit where his family is from. Subject stated he was very little last time he was there. Subject then switched topics to state that President Trump has caused such a divisive culture that he doesn't feel safe to be a Muslim in U.S. Subject said he has been teased at school and bullied for being Muslim, and at the time thought it was kids joking around, but now that he looks back at it he realizes most Americans "are racists against all Muslims." Subject said even now when he prays in public he gets dirty looks and gets stared at like he is a terrorist, and is "Tired of Americans looking down on Muslims and being arrogant." Subject says he doesn't attend mosques and doesn't "sit home and read the Quran." Subject stated that he sometimes goes online to Yahoo chat groups to talk about Islam to "get perspective of other Muslims from across the world." Subject was asked if the topic online ever switches to the U.S. and U.S. policies and politics etc. Subject stated, yeah sometimes and he just listens or if asked his opinion, tells them what he has told me. 100% bag exam was negative. Subject had no checked bags and only one military style backpack with a few clothing articles and two "Go Pro" style cameras. Both cameras were empty, no photos. When asked why he didn't take any photos of his trip, subject said he doesn't like to be in photos or to take photos. When asked why he brought them with then, subject stated he wanted to change and start to like to take photos, but "just couldn't do it." Subject had one cellphone with him. Manual examination was conducted with neg results. Subject phone had no photos on it except for two or three photos of his itinerary. Subject was asked why he didn't take photos of his trip to show his friends and subject replied "what friends?" Subject had approx. 4 "shemagh" tactical head wrap/scarfs. When asked about them, subject said he liked the way they looked on "fighters." Subject was asked if he say any "fighters" while he was in Egypt or Jordan and he stated, "no not really," but that he sees them wearing it online all the time. Subject was asked if he ever discusses politics with anyone in his family, and he stated "no they don't like when I get into my political rants." Subject was asked if he has any future travel plans to which he stated he "wants to see Great Wall of China soon." Subject appeared depressed, lonely, and angry when asked about U.S. politics and the U.S. occupation of Iraq and other Middle Eastern countries. Subject admitted he has only "two friends" and is a "loner." Subject had zero photographic evidence of his trip or what he did on his trip. Subject's information was referred to local Chicago JTTF for analysis and possible followup.
